My Marvel Experience

What made you switch from NHS to agency nursing?

I enjoyed working for the NHS – when changes were brought in, I wanted a better work-life balance.

Agency nursing gave me flexibility over when I work and how much I work, along with offering me new experiences within other hospitals to increase my knowledge.

Better work-life

balance

Since becoming an agency nurse my work-life balance has improved. I can make better plans to spend time with my family and can work around other commitments.

More flexible hours & pay

I can now work less but have more disposable income.

What are the benefits of agency nursing?

A supportive team

I have always loved working with my consultant Niall. He has been the best since I started and has so many qualities. He is sympathetic, helpful and solves any problems I encounter.

Karen, a colleague of mine recommended Bluestones Medical.

I would make the same decision again to join.

Did you have any initial worries? How were these resolved?

I was just a little apprehensive at first going to new places. I was an experienced scrub nurse, so I always did my basics, which gave me confidence in new areas. Niall & the team were a great support.

Any advice for future Bluestones Medical Marvels?

Just join, take it head on and give it a go. My work life balance is so much better, and I really do love that I can pick up shifts when I want, doing the hours I want too. Bluestones really do care about their staff which is important.
